

Remembering the 2016 Honor Trip

BY ROBYN TATE, HOLMES-WAYNE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE
DIRECTOR OF HUMAN RESOURCES AND COMMUNITY RELATIONS

In August, Holmes-Wayne Electric Cooperative employees chaperoned and coordinated an Honor Trip for local veterans, in partnership with the Shreve American Legion, in large part thanks to donations from local organizations and individuals. The following is a personal account of the impact of the Honor Trip, which provides veterans of World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War a trip free of charge to tour the memorials built for them.

I NEVER EXPECTED that a phone call made to the Shreve American Legion in the fall of 2015 would leave an impression on me that will last a lifetime.

The daughter of a veteran, raised to appreciate the values and principles that our great country has been built on, I thought I understood the rich history of our nation and the sacrifices made by so many. But three days in late August have opened my eyes to what it really means to be an American.

Twenty-four local veterans trusted an amateur team to coordinate an Honor Trip and travel with them to Washington, D.C. For many of the veterans, this was the first time they got to see the memorials that were built in their honor. It was a very small token of appreciation that we could offer for their sacrifices.

When Holmes-Wayne Electric and Shreve American Legion began talking about the trip, our community responded immediately with donations to make this event possible. I saw coworkers pitch in to raise money, and I was reminded of what a privilege it is to work for an organization that believes in the core values of supporting our community and our veterans.

Living in a world where we are overwhelmed daily by headlines of war, poverty, and civil unrest, I was pleasantly reminded that we do live in a country that is diverse in people and ideas but, still inside of us, Americans have patriotism and hope. We love this country, and we love our veterans who fought for freedom.

I saw that sentiment long before we reached Washington. When we stopped for a break along the Pennsylvania highway, women came from the roadside rest to shake every veteran's hand as the group exited the bus. They were complete strangers who noticed the Honor Trip sign in the bus window. They, too, were traveling via bus on a set schedule, but as if time almost stopped, they knew immediately upon reading the Honor Trip sign that respect and appreciation needed to be paid to these veterans.

Location after location, strangers young and old would politely interrupt our tour and thank the men from Holmes and Wayne counties for their service. Even taking a photo of our veterans at the Lincoln Memorial proved challenging because of the line of visitors who wanted to shake their hands.

As one of the park rangers explained so

remembered

eloquently, travelers from all over the world come to the District of Columbia. Even though our country is rather young, no other place in the world has designated its capital to educate others on the freedom that democracy brings and the system that it continues to provide.

Special moments that will forever be etched in my mind include looking at the 4,000 stars at the World War II memorial, each representing one hundred lost lives. Four hundred thousand young Americans with dreams, goals, and futures were lost so that I may have dreams, goals, and a future.

Another sight I will not forget was a box placed at the base of the Vietnam Memorial with a purple star and bronze heart — medals of sacrifice left behind as a memorial to someone who didn't come home. In the silence, I prayed that the veteran who earned those medals had found peace and healing at this memorial.

As we shared a lunch together, one veteran cried as he told me how his first Christmas in Korea was so horribly lonely. He said he never felt that lonely again. He was just a kid serving on the other side of the world and hoping to return to his family.

As I saw little girls in red, white, and blue sundresses dance down the steps of the Jefferson Memorial, I was reminded that hope is very much alive in our country. Parents of young children are taking the time to show the next generation the great men and women of our history who stood up for values, freedom, and our God-given rights. Families are choosing history and education over beaches and theme parks.

I witnessed this again at the welcome-home parade in our little town of Shreve. Signs were raised high to welcome our local heroes home again, and tears flowed because we all had taken a few minutes out of our crazy schedules to appreciate this great country and all the freedoms we have.

We all are looking for hope. Hope for a brighter future. Hope for better lives for the next generation. Hope that all lives across this world may experience the same freedoms we have in our democracy. I saw that myself, evident in each of the three days of the Honor Trip. I saw it in the eyes of our veterans, who were amazed by and in awe of the appreciation of complete strangers. I heard it in the silence of hundreds of people standing at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. I felt it in the thousands of visitors I passed at the memorials. Hope is still alive in our great country.

God bless the USA! ☸

Congressmen visit HWEC members

Rep. Bob Gibbs, R-Lakeville, and Rep. Jim Renacci, R-Wadsworth, addressed their concerns about regulatory over-reach with members of Holmes-Wayne Electric Cooperative's ACRE® Co-op Owners for Political Action® (Co-op Owners) at a breakfast Aug. 11 at the co-op's West Salem office.

"Regulations are absolutely killing our economy and stifling our growth," Gibbs told HWEC members. Gibbs, himself a member of the cooperative, also expressed frustration with President Obama's use of executive action, including for the U.S. Environmental Agency's Clean Power Plan, to go around Congress in enacting policy.

"You can't shut down base-load power generation and think you're going to make it up with other sources. He's circumventing Congress because he thinks he can get away with it," Gibbs said.

Renacci echoed Gibbs' concerns about the Obama administration. "We have an administration that's not listening and doesn't care," Renacci said. "Nothing will change in energy unless we change the administration."

Renacci said that the Republican-controlled Congress has done what it can to slow down the Obama administration, but the president could still set regulation after regulation, forcing Congress to keep up.

Like Gibbs, Renacci also railed against the Clean Power Plan.

"It's going to cause the price of power to go up and bills to go up, and we're all going to pay for it," Renacci said.

Implementation of the Clean Power Plan remains halted by the Supreme Court until its legality has been fully determined by the federal courts.

Glenn Miller, HWEC president and CEO, thanked Gibbs and Renacci for their support of electric cooperatives in the nation's capital. "We appreciate what you do for us in Washington, and what you do for co-op members," Miller said.

Co-op Owners is a political action committee that supports politicians, regardless of party affiliation, who share public policy goals that are consistent with the mission of member-owned electric cooperatives. More than 34,000 cooperative employees and members across the U.S. participate in the Action Committee for Rural Electrification (ACRE) and Co-op Owners. To learn more about how Co-op Owners can help amplify your voice on issues important to rural Americans, or to join, call Holmes-Wayne Electric at 330-674-1055 or 866-674-1055.

READY, SET, DRAW!

HOLMES-WAYNE HOLIDAY CARD COLORING CONTEST

We need the talent of little artists between the ages of 4 and 10 to help Holmes-Wayne Electric design its 2016 holiday cards. We will judge on creativity and color. Parents are welcome to help with the mailing of the entry only; please let your little one create the card. Paint, draw, and color away!

The winner will receive a $50 gift card and will be announced in the HWEC center pages of December's Country Living. Please submit your art on an 8.5-by 11-inch sheet of paper and fold it in half like a card.

Entries must be received by 5 p.m. Oct. 28. Send entries to: ATTN: Holiday Card Contest, Holmes-Wayne Electric Cooperative, Inc., P.O. Box 112, Millersburg, OH 44654.

Unclaimed capital credits

Per the cooperative's Code of Regulations, the unclaimed capital credits are reallocated to current cooperative members four years following the original mailing and following two consecutive notices in this publication. This is the first notice. Anyone with information on these members or their heirs, whose name and last known residence is listed, is asked to contact the cooperative office toll-free at 866-674-1055. Contact must be made within 60 days following the last date of the publication of this notice on Jan. 1, 2017.
