President and Chairman's Report on Rate Adjustment

By Glenn Miller
and Ronnie Schlegel

Our generation supplier, Buckeye Power, is entering a cycle of annual wholesale rate increases connected to the cost of investment in sulfur-dioxide scrubbers at two units of the Cardinal coal generation facility and the acquisition of additional generating capacity. The scrubbers are required to comply with federally mandated environmental laws. The purchase of additional generation capacity was necessary to meet the needs of cooperative members throughout the state.

As a result, Holmes-Wayne members will experience a rate adjustment that will take effect beginning with the November 2009 billing. The average Holmes-Wayne residential member consumes 1,350 kilowatt-hours (kWh) per month. At this consumption level, your monthly bill will adjust by $12.18, approximately 9.6 percent.

The kWh rate adjustment starting in November only covers the additional cost Holmes-Wayne will pay to purchase your electricity through Buckeye Power. The electricity purchased is based on the amount of consumption by you, the members. Based on Holmes-Wayne members' previous consumption, this increase will be approximately $2,787,000 for the cooperative's fiscal year.

Please note that the monthly consumer charge also has increased from $13.50 to $15.50. Please review the listing of our new rates compared with the current rates on the following page.

As a nonprofit organization, your cooperative does not make a profit selling electricity. Rates and the consumer charge are set based on the estimated cost to provide reliable electrical service. Any margin after expenses is returned to the members in the form of capital patronage.

We continue to encourage you to utilize this publication, our Web site and our Energy Advisor staff member to reduce your electric consumption and manage your bill.

We understand that these are difficult economic times. The board and management team will continue to monitor costs, review any increases from Buckeye Power, our generation supplier, and evaluate rate consultant estimates. We also are committed to continually assessing the cooperative's expenses, while controlling costs by creating operating efficiencies and various cost-saving measures.

If you have any questions about the rate adjustment or any other aspect of your electric service, please feel free to contact the cooperative office.

Do-it-yourself home energy audits

One of the first steps to making your home more efficient involves understanding how it uses energy. Just as a doctor has to do a thorough examination of a patient before writing a prescription, your home will need a good inspection before most inefficiencies can be identified and corrected.

Kenny DePriest, Holmes-Wayne Electric's Energy Advisor can assist you with a home energy audit that includes infrared camera and blow-door testing. Call the office toll-free at 866-674-1055 to schedule your home energy audit.

You also can easily conduct a basic home energy audit with a simple but diligent walk-through. When auditing your home, keep a checklist of areas you have inspected and problems you find. Full lists are available online—Touchstone Energy® Cooperatives Home Energy Saver (at touchstoneenergysavers.com) and the Alliance to Save Energy Home Energy Checkup (search for it at www.ase.org) are both useful—and most trouble spots can be found in a few key areas.

Locating air leaks

First, make a list of obvious air leaks (drafts). The potential energy savings from reducing drafts in a home may range from 5 to 30 percent per year, with a much more comfortable residence the result. Check for indoor air leaks, such as gaps along a baseboard or edge of the flooring and at junctures of walls and ceiling.

Inspect windows and doors for air leaks. If you can rattle them, movement means possible air leaks. If you can see daylight around a door or window frame, then the door or window has a leak; you can usually seal these through caulking or weatherstripping.

On the outside, inspect all areas where two different building materials meet, including all exterior corners, siding and chimney junctures, and areas where the foundation and the bottom of exterior brick or siding join. You should plug and caulk any holes or penetrations for faucets, pipes, electric outlets and wiring.

Also, look for cracks and holes in the mortar, foundation and siding, and seal them with the appropriate material. Check the exterior caulking around doors and windows, and see whether exterior storm doors and primary doors seal tightly.

When sealing any home, be aware of indoor air pollution and appliance “backdrafts.” Backdrafting occurs when various appliances that burn fuels and exhaust fans in the home compete for air. An exhaust fan may pull combustion gases back into the living space. This can obviously create a very dangerous and unhealthy situation.

Insulation

Heat loss through the ceiling and walls in your home could be very large if insulation levels are less than the recommended minimum. When your house was built, the builder likely installed the amount of insulation recommended (if any) at that time. Given today's energy prices (and future prices that will probably be higher), your insulation might be inadequate, especially if you have an older home. Online energy audits will provide more details on checking insulation levels in the attic, walls and basement.

Heating/cooling equipment

Inspect heating and cooling equipment annually, or as recommended by the manufacturer. If you have a forced-air furnace, check filters and replace them as needed. Generally, you should change them about once every month or two, especially during periods of high use. Have a professional check and clean your equipment once a year.

Lighting

On average, lighting accounts for about 10 percent of a home's electric bill. Examine the wattage size of the lightbulbs in your house. You may have 100-watt (or larger) bulbs where 60 or 75 watts would do. You also should consider compact fluorescent light bulbs for areas where lights are left on for hours at a time.

More information on both do-it-yourself and professional energy audits can be found at www.energysavers.gov.

Tough choices call for strong voices

In a 1951 play, French philosopher Jean-Paul Sartre jotted down a line that seems tailor-made for the energy challenges facing our nation, and electric co-ops: "We are our choices." Indeed, who we are is reflected in how we choose to live and the decisions we make each and every day.

Our leaders in Congress are tackling tough energy choices this year, choices we, as a nation, should make together. Will we choose for electricity to remain affordable, or will we choose for it to be a luxury? Are we ready for brownouts if enough power's not available, or will we choose a diverse energy mix to provide safe, reliable and affordable electricity in an environmentally responsible fashion? Will we choose to move forward or will we find ourselves, despite good intentions, moving backwards?

The climate change debate in Congress is coming down to the wire. Now, more than ever before, is the time to make sure your voice—and your choice—is heard. At Holmes-Wayne Electric Cooperative our choice is clear. We've always been committed to providing affordable, reliable energy in a responsible manner. This choice reflects who we are, and why we were founded by members like you in an effort to move our community forward into a brighter future.

Tough choices call for strong voices, and no voice is stronger than the combined force of 42 million electric cooperative consumers across the nation. Together we can choose to speak up for affordability. We can choose to invest in technology to lower energy costs, and we can pave the way for adding energy to the grid. Most importantly we can choose to work together, calling on Congress to work with electric co-ops in a combined effort to address climate change responsibly with affordability in mind.

The choice is clear. More than 370,000 electric co-op members have decided to join a national conversation, making their voices heard through the Our Energy, Our Future[™] grassroots awareness campaign. Make sure your voice—and your choice—counts. Visit www.ourenergy.coop and choose to be heard today.
